ABOUT THE PROGRAM

Overview of the Master in Management (MiM) Program

Targeting mainly pre-experienced undergraduates, the MiM program strives to develop students' leadership, general management and analytical skills, preparing them for key managerial and leadership positions in corporations, government and non-profit organizations.

The Tsinghua MiM program is the first of its kind in China. Students are expected to attain comprehensive knowledge in management through a set of intellectually challenging courses. Some of those courses are taught in English, given the bilingual nature of the program.

In 2011, Tsinghua SEM joined the Global Alliance in Management Education (CEMS) and became the first and the only business school with full CEMS membership in Chinese mainland. Students who successfully complete the CEMS curriculum will receive a CEMS diploma. Qualified MiM students can also enroll in the Tsinghua SEM-HEC MiM Dual Degree Program.

International Reputation

In 2017, Tsinghua MiM program participated in the ranking of masters in management hosted by The Economist and ranked No. 1 in Asia and 12th of all schools worldwide for its overall performance. Two individual metrics-Faculty Quality and Education Experience both ranked No. 1 worldwide.

Recently in Financial Times (FT) Global Masters in Management ranking 2022, Tsinghua SEM ranked No. 11 worldwide and No. 1 in Asia, with Value for Money ranked No. 4 and Overall Satisfaction No. 1 worldwide.

The MiM program is also highly recognized among the CEMS community. In recognition of outstanding student satisfaction with the academic quality, administration service, career-related events and student activities offered by the program, Tsinghua SEM was awarded the title of CEMS School of the Year 2017-2018.

Program Features

Bilingual Curriculum with Global Perspective

The program is bilingual, and around 60% of courses are taught in English, with the others in Chinese. The class members consist of local MiM students and dozens of exchange students from other CEMS member schools. Being the only member school of CEMS in Chinese mainland, MiM students can apply and join CEMS, and gain access to overseas exchange and internship opportunities which are exclusive to CEMS students.

Elite Enrollment with Profound Potential

Students admitted to the program mainly come from top universities in China and world-famous universities, with diversified undergraduate major background. Through rounds of selection, these successful candidates excel with extraordinary academic achievements, solid knowledge foundation and outstanding abilities, and demonstrates great potential and capabilities for business analysis.

Broad Training and Diversified Careers

The “Management” of “Master in Management” covers all types of organizations including the business sector, the public sector and non-profit organizations. Students have strong flexibility and adaptability and can quickly adapt to different organizational environment.

Systematic and Practice-oriented Learning

Tsinghua MiM’s curriculum focuses on improving students’ comprehensive knowledge and ability through case studies. MiM Practice Courses

As an application-oriented program, Tsinghua SEM MiM program offers a set of practice courses that expose students to experiential learning, delivering both theoretical knowledge and practical know-how.

Block Seminar

The Block Seminar is a one-week CEMS exclusive course that takes place at the beginning of term 1 of the CEMS year, it brings together students, professors and companies, providing the opportunity for CEMS members to come together, exchange ideas, and debate and discuss innovative management topics.

Global Citizenship Seminar

The Global Citizenship Seminar is a two-day course and takes place at the beginning of Term 2 of the CEMS year. The Seminar brings together representatives from Corporate and/or Social Partners, professors and students, for an experiential learning opportunity. Within the seminar, students will have the opportunity to engage with the Sustainable Development Goals through experiential learning, and explore personal responsibility in the context of being a future leader/manager, starting to better understand her/himself, their personal values, their impact on decision making, and how this in turn affects other people.

Skill Seminars

Beside the Business Communication Skill Seminar (BCSS), the program offers other Skill Seminars which are training seminars in practical skills. They are essential to kick-starting an effective professional career and fundamental to adjusting easily to an international management environment. Topics include but not limited to: strategy skills, personal development, consulting skills, marketing tools, group work abilities, negotiation techniques, career development, and presentation skills.

Business Projects

Business Projects are consultancy-like projects designed as a real-life learning experience for students: international student teams solve a real business problem as a one-term, part-time activity. They reinforce the partnership between universities and companies in jointly shaping students' learning processes in international management. Project results are evaluated by the academic and corporate advisors. Students may be requested to write a report and/ or give a presentation, both as a group.

Students are thus offered the opportunity to gain insight into business life; training their analytical and problem-solving skills, applying research methods, transferring theoretical knowledge into practice, learning process management and acquiring social skills. They get to know potential employers and re-define their professional goals. Students are expected to take responsibility for the project; sharing the workload within a team and communicating well with their advisors, and strive for the best results.

Business Communication Skill Seminar (BCSS)

The Business Communication Skill Seminar (BCSS) is a two-day elective element of the Tsinghua CEMS curriculum. During this seminar, students learn how to use a variety of techniques to effectively communicate in a business environment. During the interactive sessions, each participant will have the chance to express him/herself both orally and in writing, and receive feedback from the seminar leader not only during, but potentially also after the conclusion of the seminar.

WHAT OUR STUDENTS SAY

“ In the MiM program, we will have a chance to participate in many career related events which enable us not only to get to know the companies and various industries better, but also to build up an extensive network. SEM's higher education institutions have accomplished outstanding achievements on an international level and gained a high reputation. Its worldwide reputation and high ranking allow us to have opportunity to interact with some of the best and most respectable members of business, academic and other sectors, such as World-class guests talks from Mark Zuckerberg, Tim Cook, etc. With the experience of exchanging to other CEMS school, I met people with different backgrounds and cultures but mostly I enjoyed the chance of understanding and learning the local culture-which is so unique. The MiM program prompted me to explore a completely new direction of my career and life

Chen, Mark Jin-Lin

USA
MiM student of 2017 class

“ I enrolled in the SEM in 2016 and took the MiM-HEC Paris Dual Degree Program. Although the curricula were challenging and sometimes pushed me to my limit, I was grateful that I had chosen this path. During my study, I was able to travel a lot, meet different people and explore myself. I enjoyed every moment of my study and I feel that the past three years had been amazing.

Shen Qianlin

Hong Kong S.A.R., China
MiM student of 2016 class

“ Most of the courses are case-based and require to work in different teams with students from different backgrounds, which is actually quite similar to my current work as a consultant: Whenever you start a new project, you quickly need to adapt to your new team and solve a common problem together.

Jan H. Milark

Germany
MiM student of 2011 class

“ Due to my high interest in the Chinese economy, culture and language, I decided to post my application for the CEMS-MiM program at Tsinghua University. I did not regret my choice only once. This program aligns learnings about Chinese business perfectly with a global outlook. High caliber international exchange programs and double degree offer deep insights to different countries and support the academic recognition of this master degree worldwide. Studying at Tsinghua University is definitely very challenging and a lot of effort is required to excel in the MiM masters, but it is identically rewarding to be part of the Tsinghua family and this degree provides the best set up to successfully start an international career.
